

THE VALUE OF HISTORY

In a national survey conducted in the early nineties, Americans expressed doubts when asked about the value of "history," but spoke passionate high school students together each year, providing them with an opportunity to study and create history in a variety of forms. With competitions that begin at the local and state level, students conduct original research and present their work in skits, documentaries, posters, and papers. Experts in the subject provide feedback to students, and of er them encouragement to
